Save a Seal Today: Sign the Pledge!

I pledge not to buy seafood products produced in Canada—such as snow crabs, cod, scallops, and shrimp—until Canada ends its commercial seal hunt for good.

Canada's commercial seal hunt—the largest slaughter of marine mammals on the planet—is already unacceptably cruel. To unleash the hunt on a seal population that has already been devastated by natural disaster is beyond the pale.

That's why it's more important than ever that you sign the pledge to boycott Canadian seafood.

Why boycott Canadian seafood? Because it's working.

A small group of commercial fishermen in Eastern Canada kill seal pups for their fur, earning a tiny fraction of their annual income. Their industry has seen its revenue plummet since we started the boycott a few years ago. Send them a message today.
