I think it is mean to have a dog who has centuries of breeding to perform a task, and then not let the dog work. But I also think Francione is wrong about feeding a 100% vegan diet to cats, and I sent him information on this, too.

MarkRobison

Believe me, in his demented world there would be NO domesticated animals.

Harry_Seaward

So Mr Robison, I take it you must have no pets at home since they don't have the free will do declare their own desires. But to reply to the idea you're raising, the book is about being a person that can have a pet with as much respect and love as you would a child.

TheDogmom